Michael J. McCoy of GZA GeoEnvironmental Earns Certified Industrial Hygienist Designation

WAUKESHA, WI AND NORWOOD MA...ISSUED MAY 25, 2011... GZA GeoEnvironmental, Inc., a leading environmental and geotechnical consulting firm, announces that Michael J. McCoy, a Project Manager/Toxicologist at GZA GeoEnvironmental's Waukesha, WI office has earned the Certified Industrial Hygienist (CIH) designation from the American Board of Industrial Hygiene.

McCoy, whose project work at GZA includes toxicological dose reconstruction, occupational exposure reconstruction, data analysis and interpretation of medical and toxicological information for the firm's occupational health and litigation support practices, recently passed the CIH examination. As such, he has successfully met specific educational and industry experience requirements and through examination has demonstrated his knowledge in subject matters that include toxicology, analytical chemistry, biohazards, biostatistics and epidemiology.

A graduate of Marquette University with a Bachelor of Science degree in Medical Laboratory Technology, McCoy received his Master of Science degree in Pharmacology and Toxicology from the Medical College of Wisconsin.

In addition to his recent designation as CIH, McCoy's professional registrations include Certified Hazardous Materials Manager (CHMM); Certified Hazard Control Manager (CHCM); Associate Safety Professional (ASP); and Medical Technologist (MT).

McCoy frequently represents GZA as a speaker at technical conferences and has contributed to numerous industry publications.

"It is with pleasure that we announce Mike's CIH designation," said William R. Beloff, President and CEO of GZA GeoEnvironmental, Inc. "This professional designation is an achievement that is recognized world-wide."
