

GZA GeoEnvironmental, Inc. Team Members Earn LEED Professional Accreditation

NORWOOD MA...ISSUED JANUARY 28, 2009...GZA GeoEnvironmental Inc., a leading environmental and geotechnical consulting firms, has announced that five team members have recently earned Professional Accreditation from the U.S. Green Building Council's (USGBC) Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design Green Building Rating System (LEED).

Gianni Chieruzzi P.E., a Senior Project Manager from GZA's Manhattan office, Diane Baxter from the Providence RI office have recently passed the LEED New Construction exams earning professional accreditation. They join Eric Nelson P.E. of the Fort Washington, PA office, Michael Swaim of the Bloomfield CT office and Dan Troy of the Buffalo NY office as LEED accredited on the GZA team.

GZA' areas of expertise in Brownfield Development, Wetlands Delineation, Water Efficiency, Renewable Energy, and Indoor Environmental Quality serve as possible criteria for new construction LEED points. GZA has LEED accredited professionals on their team who can coordinate efforts for specific LEED points for the services they provide on projects.

"We congratulate our team members in taking on this initiative that will offer real value to our clients. GZA has a strong record of leadership in environmental and renewable energy solutions and we welcome the opportunity to grow with the green building movement," said William R. Beloff, President and CEO of GZA GeoEnvironmental, Inc. "Many of our clients are looking to green building and we remain committed to finding the best environmental solutions for all of their projects."
